

Science/Geography

Watch the video from the link below and enjoy the wonderful poem/story of a little girl who has an Orangutan living in her bedroom. Orangutans live in the rainforests of Brazil and as their homes get destroyed for a substance called palm oil that goes into some chocolate and shampoo, they find themselves alone or even killed. They are endangered and could become extinct if this carries on. Many people and groups have argued against destroying the rainforests to protect the animals and plants that live there.

Task 1

Choose words from the word bank below and match them to the column for the little girl or for Rang-tan. Some words might not go in either column.

ANXIOUS      SCARED      LOUD      CALM
CURIOUS      SHOCKED      CONFUSED
WORRIED      EXCITED      HAPPY

LITTLE GIRL	RANG-TAN

Task 2

Design a poster to stop the diggers and people destroying the rainforest. There are lots of animals that live in the rainforest, not just the Orangutan. We have attached some examples for you to look at on the next page. Make it bright colourful so it attracts people attention and makes them think!!
